

Contents

From the editor: building on local resources through participatory approaches 105
Peter Ventevogel

Peer reviewed articles

Building meaningful participation in reintegration among war-affected young mothers in Liberia, Sierra Leone and northern Uganda 108
Susan McKay, Angela Veale, Miranda Worthen & Michael Wessells

Mental health training of primary health care workers: case reports from Sri Lanka, Pakistan and Jordan 125
Boris Budosan

The transition of teenage girls and young women from ex-combatants to civilian life: a case study in Sri Lanka 137
Sonny Inbaraj Krishnan

Non peer reviewed articles and field reports

Field based training for mental health workers, community workers, psychosocial workers and counsellors: a participant-oriented approach 145
Guus van der Veer & Felician Thayalaraj Francis

Field report: peer support supervision as a procedure for learning from practical experience in a mental health setting 154
Felician Thayalaraj Francis & Guus van der Veer

The IASC Guidelines and the International Disaster Psychology Program at the University of Denver 159
Tom Barrett, Judith Fox, Janet Shriberg, Kate Aden, Whitney Eich & Abigail Wolfe

From mathematics to psychosocial work: personal reflections on a decade of psychosocial work with children in Kosovo 164
Ramush Lekaj

Summaries

Summaries in Arabic, French, Russian, Pashto, Sinhala, Spanish and Tamil 170

Publication of this issue has been supported through financial support of UNHCR.
This issue of Intervention has been made possible by

Intervention July 2011 - Volume 9 - Number 2 - Pages 105-192

Intervention International Journal of Mental Health, Psychosocial Work and Counselling in Areas of Armed Conflict

From the editor

Building meaningful participation in reintegration among war-affected young mothers in Liberia, Sierra Leone and northern Uganda

Mental health training of primary health care workers: case reports from Sri Lanka, Pakistan and Jordan

The transition of teenage girls and young women from ex-combatants to civilian life: a case study in Sri Lanka

Field based training for mental health workers, community workers, psychosocial workers and counsellors: a participant-oriented approach

Field report: peer support supervision as a procedure for learning from practical experience in a mental health setting

The IASC Guidelines and the International Disaster Psychology Program at the University of Denver

From mathematics to psychosocial work: personal reflections on a decade of psychosocial work with children in Kosovo

This Journal is published by Lippincott Williams & Wilkins on behalf of the War Trauma Foundation. ISSN 1571-8883

July 2011 - Volume 9 - Number 2